

GARFIELD TO ACT

TERRIBLE CONDITIONS IN AUSTRIA;
GERMANS PLAN SECRET COALITIONSTRIKE FAILURE SHOWS NEED OF GREATER POWER

Reactionary wave in Political Situation Complicates Issue Now Being Faced by Berlin.

Berlin, Nov. 25.—Leaders of the majority and independent socialists are secretly bargaining for terms to bring about a coalition, it was learned today.

The failure of the German general strike is said to have convinced independent leaders that they are too weak to succeed alone in their efforts at a general strike. The situation is the reactionary wave, a symptom of which was the homage paid to Field Marshal Von Hindenburg when he came here to testify before the war guilt commission of the national assembly. The majority socialists are greatly disturbed over the reactionary movement.

The independents have outlined a number of conditions and have agreed that the faction led by Philip Scheidemann shall have the leadership if the unification takes place.

Ledebour and Daumig, communist leaders, have been informed of the negotiations, but so far are non-committal as to whether they will join in or maintain the split of the radicals.

Should the unification of the two wings of the socialist party take place, the government would be a problem, the cabinet would be composed of socialists (clericals) and democrats.

The socialists would like to advantage of this freedom of government responsibility to spread propaganda actively in hope of carrying out the next national election. If the socialists are indefinitely postponed, the government would be in a position to propose to gain control of the general strike or revolution.

BATTLE LINE IS DRAWN BETWEEN SMOKE ARTISTS

Washington, Nov. 25.—The smoke is ready for war.

The national tobacco league of America, organized to combat anti-tobacco legislation, has opened headquarters here to keep a watchful eye on congress.

Today the league issued a scathing denunciation of Dr. Clarence True Wilson, secretary of the temperance board of the Methodist church, declaring that he has libeled the president and the government and cast serious reflections upon those American soldiers who smoked cigarettes in the line of battle. In an open letter to Bishop McDowell of the Methodist church, the league today declared that smokers are "God fearing people" and "their quarrel is never with the church, but it is with those members of it who prefer fanaticism to the Christianity that respects the truth as Jesus taught it."

GOVERNOR SCORES
TELEPHONE RATES
RECENTLY RAISED

Columbus, O., Nov. 25.—"Legislation should be speedily enacted providing that no telephone rates be increased without first securing the consent of the state public utilities commission, such consent to be given only after proper investigations, the burden of proof to be upon the companies."

This statement was made by Governor Cox after being informed that the telephone companies in a number of cities, including Akron, through out the state have filed schedules with the utilities commission providing for increased rates effective December 1. It is expected that similar schedules will be filed by other telephone companies.

Governor Cox has requested the utilities commission to investigate whether there is some way by which a general increase in telephone rates may be prevented after the rates fixed by Postmaster General Burleson become non-effective on November 30th.

"Telephone rates in Ohio, through the process of filing schedules, which the state utilities commission is out power to approve, or disapprove, have reached the point where they transcend the bounds of all reason. The commission should be given the power to set aside rates already increased pending investigation as to their reasonableness," said Governor Cox.

ANARCHY NEAR
AS FOOD FAMINE
GRIPS COUNTRY

Millions Starving as Winter Approaches—Outside Help Only, Stated Will Relieve Critical Situation.

London, Nov. 25.—"Unless speedy assistance is given to Austria the day is near when the whole republic will dissolve in anarchy," writes Lucien Jones, the Vienna correspondent of the Daily Express, in a dispatch from the Austrian capital today. The telegram continues:

"Millions are starving or perishing from cold. If they are not assisted they may rise up in their determination to live and seize everything they can lay their hands on."

Francis Lindley, British high commissioner, who has just completed a tour of Austria, was quoted by the Daily Express as saying:

"If food supplies are held up two days longer Austria will be without an ounce of foodstuffs. There is no coal and for weeks past the people have been tearing up park benches for fuel. All the wooden street signs have vanished."

"Not one new born infant in a thousand tastes milk. Out of 100,000 children in Vienna, between the ages of one and four, probably 85,000 are suffering from rickets or some other disease due to the lack of milk."

"The Austrians long ago were put on 'iron rations' which the doctors admitted were insufficient to maintain life. Now the people are unable even to obtain this food. Some supplies are smuggled into the country where they are sold at inflated prices. But thousands must certainly die this winter from starvation unless there is relief at once. Great Britain must answer this question: 'Are we to look on while Austria dissolves into anarchy and can we afford this for the sake of Europe?'

Already Austrians political leaders are talking of a union with Germany which is the only alternative, or death."

MARY G. MILLER DIES
AT NEW BURLINGTON

Mrs. Mary G. Miller, aged 97 years, died at 3 o'clock, Monday afternoon, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. S. P. Coy, at New Burlington.

Mrs. Miller was born in Pennsylvania, March 9, 1823. She came to Ohio when a young woman, making the trip overland. Her home had been in New Burlington many years.

Surviving her are the following children: Mrs. Coy, with whom she lived; Jonathan L., of Springfield; M. A., of Artell, Kan.; J. W., of Osborn; Samuel D., of Windfall, Ind.; and F. M., of Jenkins, Mo.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at the Coy home.

ARREST ALLEGED
I. W. W.'S IN RAID

Denver, Nov. 25.—Half a dozen alleged I. W. W.'s are in jail here today, following a riot and raid at a hall used by radicals.

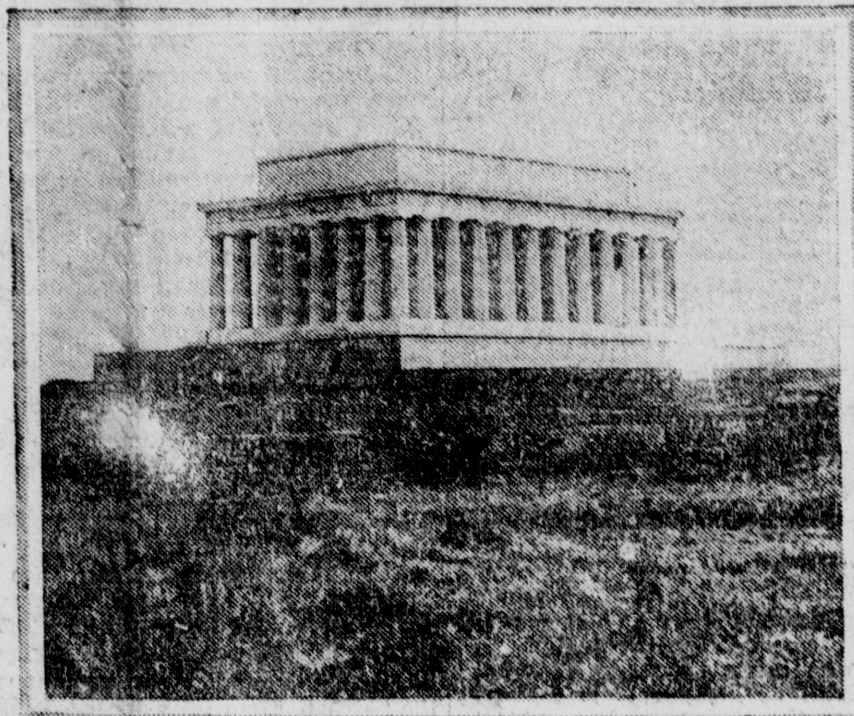

The riot started when a sailor from the Denver recruiting station resented distribution of red literature in front of the hall. The sailors attacked Frank Wall, who was distributing booklets and several service men in uniform joined in the fight. When the police responded to a riot call, the crowd was wrecking the I. W. W. headquarters.

A wagon load of literature was seized. All those arrested carried I. W. W. cards.

STATELY LINCOLN MEMORIAL NEAR COMPLETION.

The stately Lincoln Memorial which is under construction in Washington, D. C., is rapidly nearing completion. The memorial, which cost close to $3,000,000, overlooks the beautiful Potomac River, and can easily be seen from Arlington or any of the high bluffs surrounding the capital. The memorial is situated near the Washington Monument, and with that famous stone column will be one of the show places of the nation's capital.

POLITICAL TANGLE KNOTTY ONE TO ALL LEADERS---FORMATION OF LABOR PARTY REGARDED SERIOUS

Washington, Nov. 25.—A political tangle, more complex than any leaders have had to face for many campaigns is confronting the master politicians today. With a presidential campaign but a few months off, the campaign managers are casting wildly about for guidance.

In the Republican party it is the treaty of Versailles that is causing all of the worry. Leaders do not know just how the country is taking the senate's action in failing to ratify the peace treaty. They are at a loss to know whether they shall follow the lead of Senator Lodge and wage a presidential fight on this issue or not.

President Wilson's illness has caused the tangle in the Democrat party. The president has failed to give guidance to the leaders in their attempts to select a candidate to cut their favors upon. Before the president's illness it was a foregone conclusion that he would be a third term candidate at the event that the treaty was defeated.

Not the least disconcerting to the political leaders is the formation of a labor party. While there are no present indications that this party will cause great trouble, leaders recognize that because of industrial unrest there may be sudden changes in political sentiment which might throw the labor vote to the new party. Samuel Gompers and his cohorts have declared war upon the present administration because of its course in the coal strike and there is grave danger that organized labor may be found in the lists fighting against the Democratic candidate in the next campaign. At the same time the Republican leaders have rather wavering hopes of capturing the support of those led by Gompers for a Republican congress is threatening to pass anti-strike legislation and win the unyielding enmity of all organized labor.

MEXICAN GOVERNMENT REMAINS
OBDUKATE ON STORY OF JENKINS
RESPONSIBILITY IN KIDNAPPING

Washington, Nov. 25.—Mexican government is keeping closely in touch with the sentiment with regard to the Jenkins case, it was learned at the Mexican embassy today.

Ambassador Bonillas stated that he had exchanged several communications with his government relative to the case, but none was of any importance. The ambassador was still confident that a satisfactory settlement of the case might be reached shortly.

The Mexican embassy here is preparing to release a statement on the Jenkins case published in La Tribuna which tends to show that Jenkins was partly responsible for his own abduction.

Up to a late hour today the state department had received no reply to its demand for the immediate release of Jenkins, who it is understood, is still in a Mexican prison. Officials stated they were momentarily expecting a reply from Carranza's government. This, they thought, would come through the United States embassy in Mexico City rather than through the Mexican embassy in Washington.

The American government stands in pat on its demand for Jenkins' release, it was learned today, and is still in a mood to use its military and naval forces on a large scale unless satisfaction is given after a reasonable delay.

Just how much time will be allowed the Carranza government to forward its reply is not known, but Mexico has been informed that it must not employ unnecessary dilatory program.

It is pointed out that the note to Mexico is by far the most pointed that the American government has yet sent to the neighboring republic, and that it will require firm backing if the United States is to come out of the situation without embarrassment.

Either Mexico will have to give this country a satisfactory reply or armed intervention must follow, according to opinion here—that or backing down and nobody believes it will come to that.

The U. S. already has a large number of warcraft in southern waters, and it is understood a fair sized collection of airplanes near the Mexican border.

Travelers from Mexico are quoted here as saying 90 per cent of the people of Mexico are sick of the lawlessness rampant throughout the country and are eager for American intervention.

MEXICAN COMMISSION
ARRIVES IN LONDON ON SCAPA FLOW MISSION

London, Nov. 25.—The German ratification commission has arrived in Berlin from Paris to receive instructions from the government relating to the signing of that section of the new protocol covering further German reparations for the sinking of the German fleet at Scapa Flow, said an official statement received from Berlin today via the wireless press.

The allied delegates agreed in Paris on Nov. 1 to compel Germany to turn over a number of light cruisers and destroyers which are now in German waters and also deliver 400,000 tons of naval material to replace the war ships sunk by their German crews at Scapa Flow where they were interned.

COAL CONTROVERSY IS PLACED IN HANDS OF
FUEL ADMINISTRATOROperators Incensed Over McAdoo's Charge
Excessive Profits Send Challenge to For Cabinet Member.

Washington, Nov. 25.—President Wilson's Cabinet probably will turn the coal situation over entirely to Dr. Garfield, fuel administrator.

This opinion was expressed today by Attorney General Palmer as the cabinet convened.

The attorney general said he believed the cabinet would endorse a proposition supporting Dr. Garfield and giving him power to determine just prices for coal and the increases in wages which can be allowed to the miners.

"The situation needs clarification," said Secretary of Labor Wilson. He indicated that he would urge the cabinet to take a definite stand on what increase in wages should be granted.

Meanwhile, both operators and miners were holding a perfunctory session to discuss wage increases, but there was little discussion.

The operators indicated that if they withdrew they will issue a statement to the public, declaring their willingness to arbitrate the wage controversy and denying any blame for failure of the present negotiations.

Washington, Nov. 25.—Coal operators are not at all pleased today with the statement made by W. G. McAdoo yesterday to the effect that they have made excessive profits. Thomas T. Brewster, who is chairman of the operators' wage scale committee, said here today:

"We wish the government would follow Mr. McAdoo's proposal and publish the income tax returns of the coal operators; it might help us in the present struggle."

Brewster admitted that in the first six months of 1917 bituminous coal prices were profitable to some operators whose holdings were in the eastern fields. "This was stopped when the fuel administration was created, and the government fixed prices," said Brewster. "After the armistice there was a great decrease in demand and prices fell below the government fixed prices. The prices have remained down, up to the present crisis, except in a few fields where consumers have voluntarily bid the prices up."

Brewster intimated that the McAdoo attempt might have been made for political purposes and said it was "either with deliberately mischievous intent or with the intention of currying favor in some quarter."

"McAdoo is a back number," said Brewster, "and he knows that the government has all the figures showing what our profits have been."

EARTHQUAKE JARS
SAN FRANCISCO;
NO CASUALTIES

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 25.—Portions of San Francisco were shaken for half a minute early this morning by an earthquake.

No damage was reported, though sleepers were parried from their beds. The quake occurred at 3:04 a. m.

Officials of the government weather bureau here declared that the quake was classified in intensity as a "No. 4." Earthquakes are placed in seven columns of intensity, No. 1 being the lightest and No. 7 the heaviest.

The city of San Francisco was barely on the "edge" of the quake. This is assigned the reason that no damage has as yet been reported.

What damage occurred along the southern coast line is unknown, as no reports have been received by the government station.

The seismograph station at the university of California recorded the quake as lasting half a minute between 3:03 and 3:04 p. m. It was on the theory that Allen, by officials in charge, there, the shock was purely "local."

A probable cause of which was a slip along the fault line in a strata formation running north and south. By "local" shock, the officials placed the radius of a quake within 500 miles.

WATER POWER MEASURE
NOW BEFORE SENATE

Washington, Nov. 25.—Consideration of the water power legislation before the senate will be taken up following disposition of the railroad legislation. Senator Jones, Washington, announced today.

The waterpower bill provides for establishment of a commission to investigate the erection of water power projects. It is the same proposition that has met the opposition of conservationists for many years past. The terms of the bill would open the entire west to the development of its vast waterpower resources.

PRISONER DEFIES
CARRANZA WHEN
LODGED IN JAIL

San Antonio, Nov. 25.—Felix Angeles, now on trial in Chihuahua City on the charge of being a bandit, defied President Carranza in a statement made yesterday in open court, according to a telegram received here today. Angeles declared that he is a revolutionary and not a bandit and that he is a political prisoner and not a criminal.

The telegram received here said that Angeles did not discuss the Villistas, but willingly admitted his part in the attempt to overthrow the present government of Mexico. Angeles admitted he had been and still an enemy to Carranza," he said.

Angeles told the court he was sick and practically out of supplies when he was captured in the Conchos Valley last week. He says he did not have sufficient ammunition to defend himself when surrounded by government forces.

Mexicans in San Antonio would not be surprised if Angeles escaped the death penalty. He has a strong following in the state of Chihuahua and many persons on both sides of the border are his friends. Angeles is regarded as one of the most efficient of the Mexican soldiers who have been in revolution against Carranza and for that reason his capture is regarded as highly important.

FRANK B. WILLIS
ENDORSES HARDING

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 25.—"I am glad indications are that United States Senator Warren G. Harding will enter the contest for the presidency," said former Governor Frank B. Willis, of Delaware, who stopped off here.

"Harding should do so. Republicans of Ohio will be enthusiastic for him. We will all go in to help him in earnest."

"As I travel over the country, I hear much favorable comment on him. He will be the leading and likely to be the successful candidate," declared Willis.

DETAIN MAN FOR DEATH OF ANOTHER

Columbus, O., Nov. 25.—The police here have arrested Mack Anderson, colored, 35, of Youngstown, and Samuel Coselli, Italian, 23, of this city, in connection with a probe to determine the cause for the death of Charles Allen, a colored man, who was shot and killed by a white man.

The downing of Allen, who had often been seen gambling, was the basis of the theory that Allen, by officials in charge, there, the shock was purely "local."

A probable cause of which was a slip along the fault line in a strata formation running north and south. By "local" shock, the officials placed the radius of a quake within 500 miles.

BURGULARS STEAL CLOTHES
Youngstown, O., Nov. 25.—Burglars forced a cellar entrance to William Coselli's clothing store on Center square early today lorrying off suits of clothes, 50 overcoats, 30 pairs of trousers and other merchandise. Loss estimated at over $5,000.

FALSE TOOTH FAMINE
LATEST STRIKE FAD

New York, Nov. 25.—A false tooth famine is threatened by the latest labor trouble in this city. Samuel Strobel, organizer of the dental workers' union, declared today that the makers of false teeth may strike unless the union is recognized and the union label stamped on every pair of false teeth turned out.

FEUDISM LECTURE ON XENIA STAR COURSE

President James A. Burns of Oneida University, Kentucky, the man who broke up feudism in the mountains of his home state, will speak on the second number of Xenia Star Course at the Opera House, on Tuesday evening.

President Burns was born in Kentucky and was well acquainted with feudism when he began his campaign to drive out this sort of outlawism. He has been successful as he only himself can tell, and his story of the early feud days is interesting.

The Star Course is under the auspices of the Social Service League.

Funeral Services For Accident Victim

Mrs. Rose Golden Lott was laid to rest in the family plot in the Catholic cemetery Monday following funeral services conducted at St. Brigid's church. The service immediately followed that held for Leroy Haller. Relatives and friends filled the church. The Sayre and Hemphill drug store where Mrs. Lott was employed a number of years was closed during the hour of the service. Those serving as pallbearers were relatives of the deceased: Thomas Berry, of Dayton, Martin Berry, Thomas, Timothy and Joseph Canning, and James Lunn.

BRIDGE LUNCHEON IS ATTRACTIVE AFFAIR.

Pink chrysanthemums were chosen by Mrs. James A. Kelly to deck her home in the Munyer Apartments for her 1 o'clock bridge luncheon Monday. The handsome flowers were used in attractive arrangement about the rooms.

Mrs. Kelly's honor guest was Mrs. William G. Dice, of Toledo, who came down to be with her for a few days, and this charming former Xenia woman was given a most cordial greeting by the guests for the afternoon, to many of whom she is an old friend.

The guests from out of town were Mrs. C. C. Rice of Dayton; Mrs. Keller Bell and Mrs. R. C. Leslie of Springfield.

Mrs. Kelly and her son, Mr. Robert Arthur Kelly are entertaining a company this evening.

ELKS GIVE TWO THANKSGIVING AFFAIRS.

Members of the Elks Club will be hosts at two jolly events this week. Tuesday night a Thanksgiving entertainment and dance will be held at the club rooms on East Second street. ### KINGSBURYS WINTER

Mr. and Mrs. Kingsbury and their children, Betty and Dorothy are leaving next Monday for Daytona Beach, Fla., where they have taken a house for the winter. A maid will accompany them and they will keep house while at the resort. They have tipped their car to Jacksonville, and it is expected that they will arrive by motor. For several years the Kingsburys have been wintering at Daytona Beach. Walter Jobs, who is attending the University of Pennsylvania will join them during the holidays for a three weeks stay.

"Bosker Time" Is Cheerful.

The term "bosker time," which the Australians use to describe a cheerful, lively, comes home to its birthplace, little altered. "Bosky" with a similar meaning was an English colloquialism in the eighteenth century. And "bosky" is still current slang with us, but applying too generous use of the wine cup. There is one phrase in the book of slang which is decidedly pleasing, "Australian grip." It stands for that best of greetings, the honest, hearty hand shake.—London Chronicle.

Measure of Greatness.

Great men, great events, great epochs, it has been said, grow as we recede from them; and the rate at which they grow in the estimation of men is in some sort a measure of their greatness.—Principal Chair.

For Dull Mirrors.

If mirrors be very dull and speckled, the following method is excellent: Take a small portion of whiting and add sufficient cold tea to make a paste; rub the glass with warm tea, dry with a soft cloth; rub a little of the paste well on the mirror and polish dry with a soft cloth.

When Love Came

By ETTA VERNE LYNDON

(Copyright, 1919, by the Western Newspaper Union.)

"I want to see you married and settled down in life before I pass away," spoke old Jared Bliss to his favorite nephew, and the latter looked startled at the suggestion.

"I shall think it over seriously, Uncle Jared," replied Ransom Bliss, but vaguely.

By a strange coincidence at almost that very hour Mrs. Walter Morse was talking over affairs with her niece, Elsie Briggs.

"I promised my sister, your mother, when she died," she said, "that you should never need a home. My husband is to represent the firm employing him in far western Canada; meanwhile what are your plans, dear?"

Elsie looked serious, but not distressed. She had been given a little, practical bringing up. She had already thought over the future. Elsie listened indulgently to the talk of going to the city to find her own living.

"You two have been so good to me, I must not further burden you," she said. "I am sure I can earn my own way, Auntie."

Mrs. Morse grew very thoughtful. Then, after a long pause, she said: "I would like to see you married, with a good man for a husband and a home of your own," but Elsie shook her head smilingly.

Two evenings later as Elsie sat on the porch Ransom Bliss appeared. He and Elsie had been friendly acquaintances for over a year, and the latter looked puzzled and then embarrassed as Ransom, after some casual conversation, moved his chair closer towards her and said:

"I came on a special mission this evening, Elsie. It is to ask you if you will marry me."

Elsie flushed quickly and her voice was a trifle unsteady as she said, without the least trace of affectation:

"I never expected that you—you—"

"Cared for you, Elsie? Yes. Loved you? No. True affection is too sacred a thing to be named lightly. I am a plain-spoken man. There is no woman whom I more deeply respect and admire, and I would be proud to call you my wife. I will devote my life to make you happy."

Elsie sat with eyes cast down and fluttering secretly at heart. She did not reply on impulse, nor for a long time. Then, evenly enough, she spoke:

"I feel that you have honored me, Mr. Bliss, and I appreciate your clear, honest words. We have always been good friends. I shall be frank with you in turn. You say you do not love me, and I can confess for you nothing deeper than esteem. I am poor, humble, and will soon be homeless. I would not have you later regret that I can be nothing more to you than a loyal, helpful wife, who, however, can never forget that in a measure this would be a marriage of convenience."

And so they were wedded, and, after the death of his uncle, Ransom Bliss and his bride took up their residence at the old family home. They settled down into their new life more like partners than wedded mates. In all things Ransom was considerate and courteous and Elsie was a model housekeeper, and all that respect and thoughtfulness could suggest. Never was there a jar or misunderstanding. Many a time, however, as he looked at the beautiful girl, like himself engaged in reading, Ransom realized that she was possessed of rare womanly qualities, while Elsie, in turn, when alone, sighed drearily, acknowledging his perfection as a man among men, and she was at variance with the compact they had made.

There came an unexpected separation a little later. The presence of Ransom was required in settling up some business of the estate at Abingdon, 24 miles distant. For the first few weeks he came home over Sunday, but finally his absence ran into a full month. Elsie was wretched. Her impulse came over her to see him. A trolley line ran to a junction half the distance and then joined another line. She reached it about eight o'clock in the evening to wait for the intersection car. From Abingdon there arrived a car branching off and a passenger alighted to wait for a connection. It came into the dimly lighted little station. Elsie recognized him as her husband.

"Why, Elsie!" he spoke in surprise. "I must tell you the truth," she said. "I was lonely without you. I was going to visit Abingdon, if it was only to see you at a distance."

The man drew a deep breath. "And I," he said in tones that thrilled her, "only sought to look through the window of our home and see if you were well and happy."

"Happier now than I ever have been," she breathed rapidly, for his arm had striven about her waist.

"Elsie," he cried, "can it be possible that we made a mistake in the past?"

"You mean—"

"In denying that we cared for each other as only casual acquaintances might."

"It has grown into something deeper than that with me," she whispered tenderly.

And the quiet of a first and lasting love engulfed the satisfied soul of the lonely man.

Find Date Valuable Food.

Dates form the staple food of the Arabs in a large part of Arabia and are served in some form at every meal. Sirup and vinegar are made from old dates, and by those who disregard the teachings of the Koran a kind of brandy is distilled from them. The date pit is ground and fed to the cows and sheep, so that nothing of the precious fruit may be lost. While pits are used as beads and counters for the Arab children in their games on the

Builds Strong Bodies

Here's a food you can serve every day. The family will never tire of it.

Puts muscle on delicate little bodies—builds sturdy constitutions. Men who are "big eaters" say it's the most flavorful, tempting, satisfying food they ever tasted. Invalids and folks on a diet thrive on it.

Quickmush is rich in food values, very easily digested.

Serve Quickmush cereal every day for breakfast. Other "hasty-tasty" recipes for lunch and dinner—try them.

Try these Delicious Dishes for Breakfast, Lunch or Dinner

For rich creamy cereal, stir one cup of Quickmush into five cups of cold water, salted to taste. Boil ten minutes and serve piping hot with cream and sugar.

One cupful of Quickmush makes enough cereal for five people.

For Fried Quickmush, put leftover cereal in a mold. When cold, slice and fry to a crisp brown. Serve with butter and syrup.

These are typical of the many economical "Hasty-Tasty" dishes that can be prepared with Quickmush.

Red Heads Have the Advantage.

Many physicians of note are responsible for the assertion that the red-headed are more resistant to disease than less fiery-haired persons, and Sir Arbutnot Lane expresses the view that "a disease becomes less virulent in type when it gains entrance into the body of a red-head than when it attacks a person with hair of a more modest color."

ROAST TURKEY WITH OYSTERS DRESSING

Two dozen fresh oysters, 3 good sized potatoes, 1 pinch each of pepper, salt and sage, 2 ounces of butter, 2 cups dry bread crumbs, 2 cups of water, 3 bay leaves, 1 small piece of onion, enough cream to moisten.

Peel and mash the potatoes then press through a POTATO PRESS as they must be fine and free from lumps. Add the oysters, pepper, salt, sage, and butter mixed with the creamed bread, then stuff it with the above "Dressing." Place the Turkey in a DOUBLE ROASTING PAN with the bay leaves, onion and water and roast in a well-heated oven, from three to four hours, according to the size. Baste every twenty to thirty minutes and turn the bird twice.

GOVERNMENT REALIZES SEVENTEEN CENTS ON THE DOLLAR ON SALE TO FRANCE.

The purchase by France, according to unofficial reports, for $425,000,000, about seventeen cents on the dollar of the $2,500,000,000 worth of docks, warehouses, railroads and other United States army construction work on the French soil, along with supplies and equipment, is one of the biggest transactions resulting from the world war. It is perhaps the largest transaction in foreign trade ever negotiated. The south of France thus gains extensive commercial facilities which will compensate in a measure for the destruction sustained by the north of France during the war.

The city of Bordeaux acquires harbor facilities such as no shipping center has ever acquired as quickly in the history of the world. The Bordeaux end of the transaction includes docks and warehouses, which, if placed end to end, would cover an extent of 250 miles. The docks and warehouses are of the latest concrete construction, equipped with traveling cranes for the loading and unloading of the largest ocean steamships in a day. These docks are some six miles in extent.

Bordeaux, which is the principal Atlantic port in France, is therefore in a position to re-enter its competition for world trade with facilities it never dreamed of previous to the entrance of the United States. It is the European terminus of many lines trading with the Americas, Africa, the British Isles and Mediterranean ports.

THANKSGIVING THOUGHTS.

With the memory of all that darkness we can look back and see many things for which we should thank God and take courage.

The end of the war by the declaring of an armistice came before this time last year. For the results of the meeting of the peace conference and the character of its work we should be devoutly thankful. No matter what comes from it in permanent results, we should be thankful for the vision of justice and fair dealing that gathering gave the statesmen of the world. Great men who looked upon it, both near and far, witnessed to the presence of the most remarkable idealism that had ever manifested itself at a peace conference in the history of humanity. Studying that body of men in the light of the one that gathered at Vienna when the nations disposed of Napoleon and which has been called by historians "The Peace Conference of Intrigue," one must devoutly thank God for the progress the human race has made. At the Congress of Vienna the nobilities of Europe intrigued against each other and together sought to checkmate the growth of democracy. At Versailles the leaders of the demodictating terms of peace to defeated imperialism and the discredited aristocracies of Europe.

OWNING THINGS.

The Russian Reds, imitated by the Reds in this country, as learned from propaganda matter seized by government agent, in their effort to abolish private property would resort to these means:

- Seize all means of production and all products;
- Destroy fences and other evidences of private ownership;
- Burn public records and instruments of indebtedness;
- Blow up barracks, burn prisons and release the prisoners;
- Murder those designated to enforce the law;
- Abolish everything and exterminate everybody that stands in their way.

And when they had done all this, and really instituted a regime where people were all equal and owned everything in common, how long would it be until everybody was clamoring for private ownership again?

What Walt Whitman called "the mania of owning things" may be wrong or foolish, but it is human nature; and human nature cannot be changed even by destroying fences, burning legal papers and murdering officers of the law.

Prettily Described.
Junior, describing a beautiful, chubby little girl with two dimples in her cheeks, and also in her fat little arms, said: "Oh daddy, you should have seen her. The smile it grew right on her face, and even her arms have got little smiles on 'em!"

BIG NEWSPAPER LIMITS ITS SIZE

Chicago, Nov. 25.—In two front page notices the Chicago Tribune announces that because of the severe shortage of paper, that it will restrict the size of its paper to 32 pages, which means a big saving in paper.

Should it use more than this number of pages on any one day, it will cut the number of pages short on some subsequent issue.

Not only has newsprint trebled in price, there is a real scarcity, and before many weeks the papers may be called upon to further restrict the number of pages. This will work a hardship upon many advertisers, but it is thought the regular advertisers will be accommodated.

BELLBROOK

Thanksgiving supper will be served by the ladies of the M. E. church, Wednesday evening, at the town hall. Don Baird has returned home from overseas.

DR. RITENOUR OPENS OFFICE.

We received a card Friday from Dr. W. S. Ritenour, announcing the opening of an office at the corner of Brown and Warren streets, Dayton, Ohio. The doctor was formerly a resident of this village and was regarded by our citizens as one of the leading physicians of Greene county.

The library committee purchased $35 worth of books for the Township Library, Thursday.

Public sale announcements are unusually numerous for this season of the year. John Wright's services have been sought by a majority of those who have decided to sell out.

The W. R. C. gave a public supper, consisting of oysters and other seasonal foods, in the large room above the Schwartz store, Saturday night.

Lady trappers of the village have become so humane that they pad the jaws of their steel traps.

Why don't some basketball team give Bellbrook a whirl? They are spoiling.

Mrs. Grace Cunningham has returned home from a pleasant visit at Cedarville.

Fixtures for the post office have been ordered and are on the way.

THANKSGIVING MOVIES.

There will be three moving picture performances at the town hall on Thanksgiving Day.

J. L. Myers and Harry Gibson were in Columbus, Thursday, after Ford trucks.

Mrs. Sarah Brown is spending a few weeks in the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Conner of Dayton.

Wilbur Berryhill of the firm of Berryhill and Berryhill, was in Cincinnati, on business, this week.

GOSPEL TEAM COMES TO FIRST M. E. CHURCH

Four young men from Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, Ohio, will be in Xenia this week, and will assist in a series of meetings at the First M. E. church under the auspices of the Epworth League of the church.

Douglas Custis, the president, assisted by the cabinet members of the league, is planning for big things in the interest of the young people of the church and community.

A reception of an informal character will be given Wednesday evening, in the church parlors, at 7 o'clock, immediately preceding the first meeting. Meetings each night following at 7:30. At 6:30, Thursday evening, a meeting for boys will be held, and on Saturday.

Good music every night. Come plans will be formed for a "hike" and bring a chum with you. Spend your evenings this week at the Win-My-Chum services at the First M. E. church, Second street.

A glad hand to the young people of the community.

FOREIGN BUYERS ATTEND CLEARANCE SALE YESTERDAY

A large number of foreign buyers attended the clearance sale of Percheron horses, which was held by Arnold Brothers, at their home on the Jamestown pike, Monday.

Thirty-two horses were sold for $7,100, an average of nearly $223 a head. The offering included a number of colts.

Fred Funk, of Tinley Park, Ill., paid $885 for a pair of mares, this being the top price paid for a pair of animals at the sale. The highest price any animal sold for was $560, to a man from Illinois.

Arnold Brothers, Edgar and C. C., have sold their farm to C. D. Bradshaw, of Lucasville, Ohio, and it is said that they will leave Greene county next spring. They will hold a sale of the rest of their farm stock in February. They have been in the business of breeding Percheron horses in Greene county for the last ten years, the only persons in the county engaged in that industry.

The product of the Arnold farm has been eagerly bought by breeders in many states.

BACK TO PREHISTORIC DAYS

Hoatzin Birds, Found Only in Guiana, Seem to Be the Last Representatives of Extinct Life.

Running on all fours; climbing with fingers and toes like monkeys; diving and swimming as skillfully as if they were denizens of the ocean, the baby Hoatzin birds, found in Guiana, perpetuate the prehistoric days when reptiles were the dominant beings. It can neither sing nor fly gracefully, and its very presence is betrayed by its strong odor, but it is none the less of great importance in the bird world because of its strange prehistoric attributes.

The nests of the old birds are always built out over the water, frequently some 15 feet above the surface, and the young birds, with their wings turned back, not folded as is usual, but up like a diver's hands, will dive cleanly from the nest into the water and swim like a fish. When they wish to return to the nest they climb on shore and walking on their feet and the handlike ends of their wings will creep back to the tree and then climb like a monkey, using what is virtually the thumb and first fingers of their strange wings. They have a long neck and head far more reptilian than birdlike, and despite their lack of beauty, many scientific expeditions have been sent to Guiana to photograph and study these birds who represent all the ages of history, from reptile to modern life.

MEANT TO HAVE THAT SUGAR

Grains Too Large for Bees to Carry, They Converted It into Sirup and Bore It Away.

A French professor, named Bonnier, tells, in a paper bearing the difficult name of Revue Heodomadale, a tale of the intelligence of the busy bee. On the Paris-Lyons railway, near the biological laboratory at Fontainebleau, he says, some coarse granulated sugar had been spilled in a heap beside the track. Bees came and tried to carry off the sugar, but the grains were too big for a bee to carry. Did they give up? Not these bees. They flew to the neighboring water trough, loaded themselves with all the water they could carry, flew back to the sugar pile, and threw the water on the sugar. Soon the top of the pile was converted into a sirup, in which the bees busily rolled themselves until each and all were coated with sirup, when they flew away to their hives. There they got rid of their cargo and returned for more; and, whenever they got down to the coarse granulations, they resorted again to the water trough. Countless bees engaged in the operation, and kept at it till no sugar was left. So far as one recalls, this is a new example of intelligence in insects, and one is glad that somebody was there, that July day, in 1918, to see and chronicle it.

William Carlisle.

Federal troops, state, local and railroad officers have failed to locate William Carlisle since his daring sidestep of a Union Pacific railroad train. Carlisle escaped from Rawlins penitentiary November 15, where he had been serving a long term for robbing three Union Pacific trains in 1916. Three nights later, November 18, a Union Pacific passenger train was held up between Medicine Bow and Rock River, Wyoming. Witnesses were searching for him Carlisle sent the railroad officials a wire "kidding them."

TERRIBLE SORES

purifier. 25 cents a cake at Sayre & Hemphill's. "My daughter was troubled for over a year with a fever sore on her leg, and was helpless in bed for three months. To the great surprise of all, including the four doctors who had attended her, San Cura Ointment healed the great sore in less than six weeks."—J. D. Hood, Townsville, Pa. Karl C. Banks, of the Atlantic Refining Co., of Pittsburgh, had a sore on his ankle for a year. He doctored, and tried various remedies without relief. He says: "San Cura Ointment worked like a charm; reduced the swelling and healed the sore in two weeks."

Bear in mind, that besides sores San-Cura Ointment is used with great success in eczema, boils, carbuncles, salt rheum, tetter, also itching, bleeding and protruding piles. In cases of burns, scalds, cuts and bruises, San Cura is most valuable. The price is only 30c. 60c and $1.20 a jar, and Sayre & Hemphill guarantee it.

MUSTEROLE—QUICK
RELIEF! NO BLISTER!

It Soothes and Relieves Like a Mustard Plaster Without the Burn or Sting

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with the oil of mustard. It does all the work of the old-fashioned mustard plaster—does it better and does not blister. You do not have to bother with a cloth. You simply rub it on—and usually the pain is gone!

Many doctors and nurses use Musterole and recommend it to their patients. They will gladly tell you what relief it gives from sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). 30c and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50.

"You will give her up?"

"Never! Less now than ever. Uncle Reuben, do not cross me in the desire and duty of my life. Within a month Lois Newton has lost her father, who has left her penniless and homeless. She is the only woman I ever loved. I have made her my wife. Surely—"

"Go!" Old Reuben Morely rose to his feet, pulsating with fury. His trembling finger pointed to the door, his eyes glared. "Go!" he shouted, and his fists clenched. "Out of my heart, out of my home—forever!"

Walton Blair bowed his head in silence. He hurried his steps to escape the anathemas hurled after him by his selfish, irrational relative. The dismissal meant penury.

It was sweet and soothing the solace he received from the bride of an hour. The very fact of his great sacrifice of home, position, heirship, endeared him double fold to the modest, unassuming girl who was ready and willing to go hungry, roofless, accept the heaviest burdens of toil so that she had him by her side.

Reuben Morely, though now recovered with his independent nephew. As to Lois, no claims of preference held her to her native village. Her aunt cared for them in her humble way during the week that they devoted to mapping out their future. Walton had no trade or profession but he had done some clerical work for his uncle and was capable of filling the position of the average office clerk. There was an old friend of his dead father named John Allen, who operated a large manufacturing plant at a town called Lupton. Walton left Lois with her aunt, to be received at Lupton with full consideration and the kindly tender of a position in the bookkeeping department of the great works.

Just as Walton was looking around for modest living quarters, at a critical moment he saved the two little children of the wealthy manufacturer from sure death in an automobile accident, but sustained the serious injury of a broken arm, and the attending surgeon told him that he would not be able to use his right hand for a year to come.

"I have sent for your wife on my own initiative," Mr. Allen told Walton, as he lay under hospital care. "I have also planned to show my lasting gratitude toward you in a way that cannot offend your sense of the fitness of things. You have probably noticed that little oasis of house and garden at the edge of the mill site. It was where I and my family passed the happiest year of our lives. I am going to fix up the place and rent it to you at a nominal price."

"But I shall be unable to pay for it," remonstrated Walton.

"So? Hardly. You may not be in a condition to do any office work but, if you will accept it, you shall become our night watchman. Ten to five you make hourly rounds of the signal boxes and see that all is safe. And if I do not mistake, that charming little wife of yours will not be too proud to sit in the timekeeper's office at seven, twelve, one and five and keep tab on the incomings and outgoings of the workmen."

"Oh, this is ideal!" exuberated Lois, when two weeks later they were installed in the home John Allen had so generously provided. It was in the enchanting garden surrounding the house that they passed many hours of the day, restoring its former brightness as far as they could. Mr. Allen died and they lost a good friend but his son-in-law, who succeeded to the business, accepted the old provision made for the Blairs as a sort of obligation of honor, and for five years the happy and contented married pair remained on duty in their respective positions.

A little golden haired cherub came to them and the pretty home became a haven of delight when Dorothy was old enough to get around. It was just after her fourth birthday when there was a collision on the trolley line that ran directly past the house. Several were injured, among them an old man who with the others was carried into the Blair home, which afforded the nearest shelter. It was found that he was only stunned. When he recovered consciousness he was lying on a couch and little Dorothy, whose father and mother were away at the time, was fanning him and looking startled, but solicitous.

"Who are you? Whose house is this?" The old man almost frightened Dorothy by starting up suddenly and fixing his eyes upon a framed photograph on the wall. "Who are you?" he asked more gently, scanning the child's face closely.

"I am Dorothy Blair," replied the little one, "and mamma and papa are away, and that picture you stare at so is Uncle Reuben, who is going to come and see me some day, papa says."

"He has come already, dear child!" pronounced Reuben Morely in broken tones, and he was holding the little one on his lap when Walton Blair entered the room.

Reuben Morely, though now recovered, still lingered, and when he went on his way it was all arranged that they were to come to his home and stay there permanently, and cheer the life of the lonely old man with sunshine of tenderness and love.

Meaning of "Selah."
The word Selah, which occurs so frequently in the Psalms, is usually believed to be a direction to the musicians who chanted the Psalms in the temple. Mattheson, the great musical critic, wrote a book on the subject, in which, after rejecting a number of theories, he came to the conclusion that it is equivalent to the modern "da capo," and is a direction that the air or song is to be repeated from the commencement to the part where the word is placed.

Bananas.

The banana is a perennial herbaceous plant, growing from year to year from an underground root stock with a stem or stalk from 10 to 15 feet high above the ground. The plant has drooping leaves, but no branches like fruit trees of the north countries. Each stalk produces one large cluster of fruit. After fruiting, the stalk is cut down to the surface of the ground and grows up again from the root.

New Meter Records Steam.

A recording meter has been invented to measure the amount of steam used in an industrial plant and check waste.

A little "Danderine" checks ugly dandruff and stops hair falling

Get a small bottle of "Danderine" at any drug store for a few cents, pour a little into your hand and rub well into the scalp with the finger tips. By morning most, if not all, of this awful scurf will have disappeared. Two or three applications often remove every bit of dandruff and stops falling hair. Every hair on scalp shortly shows more life, vigor, brightness, thickness and color.

URGES PEOPLE TO FIGHT CATARRH WITH SIMPLE HOME MADE REMEDY

Can Make Pint at Home and Costs Little, Says Leading Druggist of Covington, Ky., Who Has Made Special Study of Catarrh.

Says: Inflamed Nostrils Invite Influenza

People who say that catarrh is a disease not to be taken seriously are harshly rebuked by a Kentucky druggist who has for years been much interested in the growth of this loathsome, yet altogether too common disease.

He claims that the sore, tender, inflamed membrane of the nostrils and throat is a prolific breeding ground for germs—not only the germs of influenza, but many other kinds as well.

If people would only stop experimenting for two weeks and try a simple remedy made of Mentholized Arcline mixed with enough boiled water to make a full pint, half of the catarrh in this country would be abolished. It's really no joke for people

Fall and Winter Brings on Aches and Pains

Many people suffer unnecessary pain by waiting for lumbago, backache or rheumatic pains to pass off naturally. Why not take prompt action and make a recovery like that described by J. R. Wilkinson, of Selma, O. "Lumbago struck me just as I got out of bed, so bad I couldn't stay on my feet. My wife bathed my back with Houstonia Liniment and covered it with a hot flannel cloth, and I began to get better at once, and in two hours time I got up and went to work."

In a few hours Houstonia will relieve practically every ache or pain. Its remarkable antiseptic qualities make it especially good for burns, cuts and bruises. It soothes while it heals. Be prepared in advance by securing a bottle of Houstonia—each (The Original Jones' Liniment), with Dr. Jones' picture on the yellow label. $1.00. Half size 50c, trial size 25c. Orchestras
As Well as American

SOME of the best records are those of the famous American and foreign Symphony Orchestras. They are recorded on different makes of records.

On The Brunswick you can hear them all—without restriction—and hear them at their best.

This is possible with the Ultona, a new all-record reproducer, and the Brunswick Tone Amplifier.

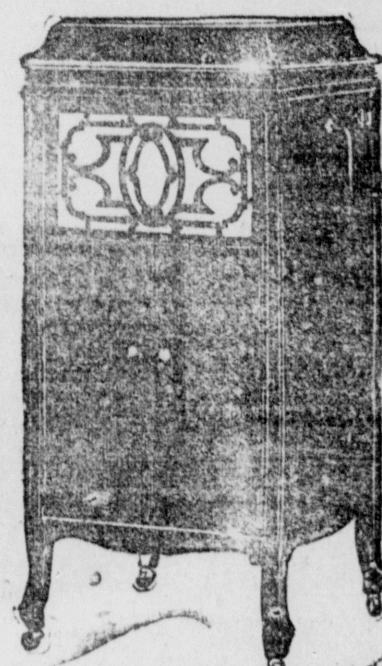

The Ultona presents to each type of record the proper diaphragm and needle—its correct position on the record—and the degree of pressure necessary to play it at its best.

The Brunswick Amplifier banishes metallic sounds, for it is built entirely of moulded wood like a violin.

ANOTHER PIQUA NEWSPAPER BOUGHT BY XENIA PUBLISHERS

By a deal, completed last week, C. F. Ridenour and J. A. Chew, who recently purchased two newspapers in Piqua, become the owners of a third, the Piqua Call, giving them control of all of the newspapers in that city. The papers will be consolidated and published from one plant.

In making the announcement there Monday, the Piqua papers say in part:

"Increased costs of labor, newsprint and other paper stock, ink, metals, types, machinery, and, in fact, everything else that figures in the production of a daily newspaper have made the merging of the Piqua newspapers a business necessity.

"Piqua is one of the few cities of Ohio that has been tardy in effecting what publishers in every city in the country have foreseen for years to be a vital necessity.

"During the past few years, daily newspapers have been consolidating in all parts of the country, and many others are planning to consolidate in the near future. Many cities considerably larger than Piqua have found that only one daily newspaper can be operated successfully within their trading territory. While Piqua still will have two daily newspapers, their publication from the same plant will have a tendency to eliminate some of the excessive overhead expense necessary in two separately operated plants. The reason for conducting both papers is a desire to give rural subscribers as prompt service as the city subscribers and to accomplish it seems necessary to publish a morning paper which will contain items of news interest of the previous night.

"Within recent weeks daily newspapers in Zanesville, Ellettsville, Lorain, Cambridge and Wooster have been consolidated, leaving but one newspaper in each city. In Zanesville, a city of 30,000, three papers were consolidated. In Lorain, over 50,000 population, Cambridge, with 17,000 population, two dailies were consolidated in each city. In all instances the consolidations were brought about largely because of business necessity, and in all of these cities it was found two separate and distinct daily newspaper enterprises could not profitably exist.

"Among many other cities in the state which have but one daily newspaper are Alliance, 24,000 population; Portsmouth, 30,000; Martins Ferry, 15,000; Mansfield, 17,000; Ashtabula, 23,000; Mansfield, 25,000; Urbana, Washington, C. H. Xenia, Conneaut and Coshocton, each approximating 12,000 population. In all of these cities and in hundreds of others of equal importance throughout the country, it has been found that one good daily newspaper is much to be preferred to two that are forced to conduct a losing fight for profitable existence. In Michigan, a dozen of the largest cities have but one daily newspaper in each. Saginaw, Bay City, Flint, Kalamazoo, and Lansing are cities ranging in population from 50,000 to 70,000, and all are one newspaper towns. In Illinois, New York, New England, the middle west and the far west, there has been a continuous succession of newspaper consolidations during the last few years as evidence that the condition is not confined to any one section of the country.

either one of the papers, had they not been consolidated. Piqua has no more need for two separately managed newspapers than it has for two separate postoffice systems. In cities which have only one newspaper company, the citizens are delighted with the arrangement.

"To be progressive, a newspaper must be prosperous, and it is impossible for two newspapers companies to be prosperous in a city big enough for only one.

"It is the experience of all communities that it requires more capital to publish a daily newspaper than any other enterprise of its size, that the daily newspaper brings in less returns on the capital invested than any other business of similar magnitude, and more than that, more money is lost in efforts to establish newspapers than in any other business venture.

"A new company which is to be incorporated at once, and amply financed, for the purpose of publishing the consolidated papers, will be one of the strongest newspaper organizations in the state.

"The Piqua Daily Call will remain an evening paper and the Piqua Daily Press-Dispatch will be made a morning paper."

Sense of Taste.

The sensation of taste, while a common and constant experience, is highly complicated in its nature. What is commonly called taste is not a simple sensation at all, but rather a complex. In addition to the actual functioning of the apparatus properly pertaining to the sense of taste, the tongue receives impressions of various other sorts, all of which go to make up this complex. As finally recorded in the consciousness, the taste of any substance has to do with its heat or coolness, perhaps with a mild amount of pain, certainly with astringency or acidity—which are in themselves further complexes of tactile and tactile sensations—and above all with smell. The reader will probably agree that ice cream and coffee are entirely different from their true selves when served as inopportune temperatures; and it is a matter of record that a person of the keenest taste may make the most ludicrous errors if asked, blindfolded and with his nose stopped, to identify substances placed in his mouth.

RELIEF CAME AT LAST

Father Had Given Up Hope of Curing Son's Cough

Mr. A. F. Sherer, owner of a machine shop, Haviland, Ohio, says, "My son had a cough for several years. We began to think his case a hopeless one. He could get no relief until that after January 1st, 1920. In fact, it will amount to a saving of 30 to 40 per cent to all merchants. A neglected cough has undoubtedly caused more deaths than any other agency. A lingering cough should be treated at once. If allowed to continue the tissues of the lungs will be weakened and the power to resist epidemics of cold and grip is lessened. By getting three ounces of Glando Pine you can make one pint of excellent cough syrup. Keep it on hand and use it freely. Stop that cough before it has too firm a grip upon you. Don't be careless and make a mistake that may cost your life. If you can not get Glando Pine of your druggist, send 50 cents to The Glando-Ald Co., Paulding, Ohio, and it will be sent you.

It is easy to prepare, tastes but little, and is pleasant to take. It is splendid for making improvements that for coughs, colds, bronchial affections, and highly recommended for croup, whooping cough, Glando Pine can relieve the spasmodic coughing of the pure form of white pine vertebrae which other valuable ingredients have been added. Directions for preparing them would have had to pay for accompany each bottle.
